OPERATORS WANT SHERMAN ACT ENFORCED TO LETTER OF THE LAW

Write Their Request to President Roosevelt—Conference Is on Between Big Guns in New York—All Quiet in the Anthracite Fields—Results Anxiously Awaited.

(Special By Scripps-McRae.)
New York, Oct. 10.—It has been officially announced that the first move of the railway owners towards ending the coal strike was started this morning when the Delaware and Hudson company, one of the roads controlling the hard coal fields, requested President Roosevelt to take action against the United Mine workers under the Sherman law. This law makes it illegal for an organization to conspire and restrain trade among the several states. The announcement that this step had been taken has placed an entirely new phase to the situation and shows clearly that the roads are not ready to make a compromise with the strikers.

TEXT OF LETTER IS STRONG
The request to President Roosevelt is to begin action against the railroad's miners was made in a letter written on the eighth by David Wilcox, general counsel for the road. It quotes a number of authorities to show that the national government can proceed against miners. It cites among other cases the Debs case. It also says that a temporary injunction would be granted which could be enforced by all the powers of the national government.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE WITH MORGAN

The temperature dropped twenty-seven degrees and is now at 48. Coal is twenty-five dollars a ton and very scarce at that. Among the poorer classes the suffering is severe.

ARE USING STRENUOUS METHODS
Strenuous efforts are being used today to settle the coal strike. Senators Platt, Quay and Penrose and Governor O'Dell have been closeted since early this morning. While they will not tell what pressure they are trying to bring to bear upon the operators to end the trouble, it is evident that they are doing all in their power. A statement said to be the official view of the operators was made public this morning and was to the effect that while much political pressure was being brought to bear upon them that they would not grant the request of the miners, nor take back a step. President Mitchell was up early this morning, but looked as though matters were not going to suit him.

CROWDS AWAIT RESULT OF INTERVIEW

Upon being awakened Swem attempted to protect himself and a fight followed in which one of the burglars was floored by a club in Swem's hands. MAGNOLIA HAS AN AMUSING FIRE

THE "OLD LANDMARK" IS DESTROYED BY FLAMES.

REPORT BY TORTOISE EXPRESS

Exhibitions Incident of the Afternoon, Far Better Than a 20-Cent Show.

The following interesting dispatch was received at the Gazette office this morning by the tortoise express. The exciting and interesting news it contains is so refreshing that it is published without any changes whatsoever.

BIG BLAZE AT MAGNOLIA
Old Landmark Is Gone
(Special To The Gazette.)
At three o'clock on Wednesday afternoon our quiet hamlet was aroused by a shrill blast from the creamery whistle and on looking smoke and flames could be seen leaping into the air from the roof of the "old Whitney" blacksmith shop and hall.

Between seventy-five and one hundred people were upon the scene in a few minutes, but the flames were under such headway that they could not be checked and their attention was turned to saving the tools and stock in the shop, operated by John Troon. Most of the stock was saved but a great deal of it was badly damaged.

The old building, known as the "old landmark" was built nearly sixty years ago and has been used for a repair and inventing shop ever since. It was there that the idea first originated of having the wheels go ahead of the sulky plow, also the use of iron as a plow beam. Later the invention of the bed spring took place and it was used as a factory to make them for many years. The property is now owned by Wm. E. Sturdevant and operated by Mr. John Troon of Dodgeville, Wis. The building, coal shed it is supposed to have caught by sparrows carrying matches in between the shingles and boards and by some means or other setting the matches off in the dry fiber or debris used for nesting purposes. It being only partially insured, it was quite a loss to both Mr. Sturdevant and Troon.

But while these stirring events were taken place our attention was turned to across the way where our new proprietor of the McCoy Store Mr. R. E. Acheson was running up and down the road coatless, hatless and speechless with his mustach, curled back around his ears calling for help to save his new possessions. When it was found that ladders would be needed to scale the roof, Mr. Acheson at once started for his farm one-fourth of a mile away with his team of bronches after a set of painting ladders he thought were there. In a moment he was back, but being badly oiled the team ran a half mile the other way by the store but on the second attempt some persons came to his rescue and stopped the team and the ladders were promptly used. The roof of the two buildings were kept well soaked with water and several blazes were put out in different places. "Our mayor," Mr. Sturdevant, was everywhere giving orders in the coolest kind of a manner and it was largely due to his coolness and quick thought that any of the property was saved. A score of ladies were present and some of them carried quite a furgacious air as some were seen throwing water up into the air and when it fell down in the sand in the road they seemed to think that they were doing the work of a patent fire extinguisher.

Mr. Acheson on being interviewed at 7 o'clock Thursday had just begun to realize that it was not true and that his store was safe and sound and on the whole a very pleasant afternoon was spent, the blaze creating more excitement than the twenty cent show that was here one week ago.

GOLF CLUB GIVES PLEASANT PARTY

Handsome New Dance Hall Was Dedicated in a Happy Manner Last Evening.

Handsomely gowned women and their well groomed escorts, representatives of Janesville's first society circles, participated in the dedication of Central hall last evening, the occasion being a dancing party given by the Sinsinelson Golf club. While for various reasons the attendance was not as large as had been expected, the party was certainly a brilliant social success and one of the most attractive ever given in the city.

Much of the interest of the occasion centered in the beauty of the new hall which is by far the handsomest dance hall in the city. Remodeled along modern lines it is an ideal ball room and makes a most effective environment for a pretty party. A Handsome Hall
No attempt was made at floral decorations last evening and indeed none was needed. The lighting of the hall with incandescent bulbs set in the ceiling is especially effective and the walls tinted in the artistic combination of dark green and deep cream, is pleasing to the eye and makes a splendid background for handsome evening costumes. The reception and dressing rooms are elegantly furnished with fancy chairs, leather couches, upholstered corner seats and long mirrors, making every attractive retreat.

Music From Balcony
The orchestra stand is a decided novelty being in the form of a balcony on the east side of the hall. By this arrangement the entire floor is given to the dancers and the musicians are not interfered with.

The music for last evening's party was furnished by Smith's orchestra and was of the usual high grade. The program included only round dances and the entire company enjoyed an evening of unalloyed pleasure.

Arrangement Committee
The members of the arrangement committee were W. A. Jackson, H. G. Carter, F. J. Baker, P. J. Fleury, H. Ross King and Harry Atwood. They received able assistance from J. P. Baker in making arrangements for the party.

TWELVE FRIENDS HAVE MERRY TIME

Miss Lulu MacDonald Surprised Last Evening on Occasion of Her Seventeenth Birthday.

Yesterday was the anniversary of the birth of Miss Lulu MacDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. MacDonald, and the members of her family planned and executed a pleasant surprise for her in honor of the event. Shortly after five o'clock, eleven of her young girl friends assembled at her home, 156 Mineral Point avenue and made the fact known to their surprised and delighted hostess that they had been invited to enjoy her birthday supper with her.

A little later the twelve young ladies were seated around the prettily laid table, partaking of a delicious two-course supper, which included a birthday cake in which seventeen candles blazed forth the announcement of Miss MacDonald's age. Considerable amusement was occasioned by an attempt on the part of each guest to blow out one candle without extinguishing any of the others.

Music And Games
After supper was over the balance of the evening was devoted to music, games and dancing. In behalf of the guests and with an elaborate speech of congratulation, Miss Josephine Fenton presented Miss MacDonald with a box of bon bons, which on opening proved to be confections of the most gaudy colors and of the design which usually appeals to the child who wants to get the most possible for a penny. Miss MacDonald was equally elaborate in her address of gratitude and then she was genuinely surprised by being presented with a handsome spoon in French gray silver. It was late in the evening when final congratulations were extended and good nights said.

"SECRET DISPATCH" IS WELL STAGED

The Play Is Bright and Snappy, and Pleased a Good Sized Audience.

"The Secret Dispatch" was presented at the Myers Grand last evening by a capable company before a large house. Edgar Adams and B. S. Higgins in the leading parts of Edwin Grey and Jim Follett displayed a tendency to be over tragic in passages of the drama, which was cramed to overflowing with sword play, murder and theft, but gave proof of undeniable talent.

Jack Spalding, the hired boy, supplied the comedy touch in an acceptable manner. The remainder of the cast was filled by actors who possessed ability, but not brilliance, and actresses who were little more than mediocre, with the possible exception of Miss Mary Sanger. The play was well staged, and several scenes furnished an unusually effective setting to the work of the company.

WITH THE ATHLETES

In 1903 either Chicago or Minnesota will meet the University of Wisconsin on the gridiron at Milwaukee.

Thirty-six freshmen have made application to Coach O'Dea for places on the '06 Wisconsin crew.

King has again shifted Juneau from end to half back, and it is evident that he is greatly dissatisfied with his back field.

Enthusiasm in the work of the high school eleven is growing daily and a close game with Beloit on Saturday is looked for.

In a mid-week game against Amherst, Harvard put up a disgraceful exhibition of football and barely won out by a score of 6 to 0.

Plans for a winning track team next year are being made by the Milwaukee Athletic club, with the idea of using Ed. Merrill as the nucleus.

Oscar Erickson, a senior at the University of Wisconsin will coach Marquette college in football, because he has been barred from playing with the Badgers in account of a professional baseball record.

Arrangements have been made to take the All-Americans and the All-Nationals to Milwaukee for a base ball game on October 13, and a great deal of interest is centering in the outcome of the contest.

Illinois feels positive of a victory against Chicago on the gridiron this fall, and in crediting the Maroons with enough improvement to offset last year's 24 to 0 record against them.

Kilpatrick, of Wisconsin, said while in Milwaukee arranging for the game with Beloit, that he looked for the closest game with the little college on the line since the year they played the 6 to 0 game in 1896.

Osteopathy in Acute Cases
Some acute work came under my care a few weeks ago, which demonstrates nicely the results of osteopathic treatment in such cases. One Sunday afternoon some people who were out driving met with an accident in the way of upsetting their rig. The gentleman in charge, being a patron, immediately brought to my office his daughter. She had a dislocated thumb and a sprained wrist. A neighboring young lady was suffering from a dorsal dislocation of the head of the femur on the left side, the ulna of the right side rib of the left side fractured two inches from its eternal end. Besides this, there were slight bruises to the body.

The misplaced structures were all adjusted, the parts to their normal position, within thirty minutes. Later, I made two calls to see that the injuries sustained by the young lady were taking the proper course. In ten days she was around in her room; in three weeks she was going over the house as she pleased, and six weeks afterward, when I saw her, she said that there was not the slightest trace that she had been in a wreck.

Two things might have been taken into consideration here: (1) The promptness with which the work was done before time enough had elapsed to allow the setting up of inflammation. (2) Scientific adjustment, by which the parts were returned to the normal with a minimum amount of bruising to surround structures.

SEIZE THE COAL ROADS ADD LANDS

SUPPLY THE PUBLIC WITH FUEL

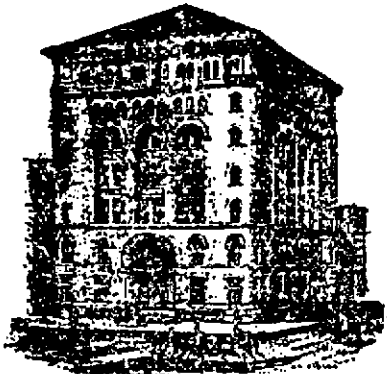

Pennsylvania Asked to Call Special Session of the Legislature to Provide Ways and Means to Relieve the Existing Stringency.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 10.—After sessions of wrangling and bitter debate, radicals battling with conservatives to the last ditch, the "coal famine" convention, with its 300 delegates from fifty-six municipalities of the United States, early this morning determined on the demands by which relief will be sought from the anthracite coal famine. Demand is made, and will be carried to President Roosevelt at Washington, that:

"The state of Pennsylvania proceed at once, by a special session of its legislature, to condemn, at a fair compensation, the coal carrying roads of that state and sufficient of the coal lands to enable the public to be supplied, the state to operate the mines. "The president of the United States to assemble the lower house of congress and have that body appoint a commission to investigate all charters, stock books, and all properties of the coal carrying roads with a view to secure such information as shall indemnify the state of Pennsylvania in any litigation over the handling of the mines.

Demand Punishment.
"The attorney general of the United States at once to bring criminal proceedings against the coal carrying roads for violation of the interstate commerce law in their high handed and arbitrary fixing of rates and for violation of the Sherman anti-trust act, in that these roads have an ironical combination which practically vests absolute control of the coal fields in their hands. It is demanded that these criminal proceedings lie against managers, directors, and all officers of these corporations.

"That President Roosevelt take steps at once to have a receiver for the mines appointed, this official to operate the properties for the public good. It is further asked that, should the chief executive of the nation find this plan impracticable, that he call an immediate session of congress and urge the passage of legislation to this end."

MASONIC HALL.
(Where sessions were held.)

Appeal for Funds.
Appeal is made that the mayors of all cities of the United States take immediate and organized steps toward raising funds for the maintenance of the miners and their families.

Vigorous condemnation is laid on the heads of the owners of bituminous mines, who, profiting by the exhaustion of the anthracite markets, have arbitrarily sent up the prices of their product.

In the face of all these demands, reached only after a battle of words which waged from early morning until midnight, every step which has been taken thus far by President Roosevelt to end the strike was given unqualified and enthusiastic approval. The formal resolution closed with a ringing applause for the efforts of the President to end the trouble which threatens suffering and misery to the country.

Of Wonderful Make-Up.
This result of the "get coal" conference, whose delegates were representatives from all sections of the country, was reached only after a flood of proposed remedies had been thrashed over. The convention will stand as one of the most remarkable gatherings the country has known.

All representatives came here voluntarily, footing their own bills and seeking to solve some way to meet the present difficulty. Their numbers included men of the most radical socialistic type; conservative business men who sought remedies wholly within the law; men who urged that force and the breaking of the law offered the only means of relief. It was these extreme opinions and convictions which made the fight to a final result so bitter.

Want Mines Seized.
There were those who insisted that the President should take armed troops, invade the coal fields and seize the mines by force. They would have the chief executive leading a force of armed men.

There were resolutions in number declaring for public ownership for coal mines and all other natural resources and their backers demanded immediate transference to this method of control, but one and all they neglected to point out the way.

Still Youthful at Ninety.
Lawyer Luther R. Marsh, aged 90, once the trusting victim of Editha L. Leta Montez, or Ann O'Della Dias De Bar, and purchaser of her "spook pictures," writes to a New York paper contradicting the story that he is sick, saying that he is "hunky-dory."

TEACHER SHOOT THREE TRUSTEES

TAKES REVENGE ON CHILDREN

After Disabling Their Parents the Frenzied Man Deliberately Fires on Little Girls, Then Turns the Weapon on Himself When Pursued.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 10.—Frenzied by the prospect of being discharged as teacher in the Mennonite school near Altoona, Manitoba, Henry I. Toews attacked three trustees, fatally wounding two of them and shooting the other. He then re-entered the schoolhouse, fatally wounded two little daughters of one of the trustees and shot the child of another.

Toews then fled, but neighbors pursued him, and when driven to bay he shot himself with the last bullet left in his revolver.

Altoona is in the center of a Mennonite settlement, most of the members of which are prosperous farmers. Toews was a Mennonite, but for some time there had been friction between him and other members of the community, complaint having been made concerning the management of the school.

The three members of the board of trustees—John Hiebert, Abraham Remset and Peter Kehler—expressed dissatisfaction with the work of the teacher, and there had been hard feeling between them and Toews.

Trustees Visit Teacher.

The three members of the board visited the school according to a pre-arranged plan to talk matters over with the teacher. School was still in session and, instead of inviting his visitors inside, Toews came out himself, leaving his pupils at work in the building.

The trustees referred to the complaints that had been made to them, and the teacher attempted to defend himself from the accusations made. As the talk progressed Toews became angry, and there was loud talk and hard words.

During the quarrel he suddenly drew his revolver and aimed at Remset. The bullet took effect in the trustee's side, and he fell to the ground, fatally wounded. Hiebert was then shot in the side. He also was mortally wounded. The two shots were fired almost at one time, and none of the men had time to move.

Breaks His Fingers.

Kehler, who had stood a little farther off than the others, sprang forward when the shots were fired and attempted to wrest the weapon from the frenzied man. He was successful in disturbing the aim of the weapon, and as it was discharged he was shot in the hand, the bullet breaking his fingers and forcing him to release his hold of Toews.

Toews then sprang into the schoolroom determined to complete his revenge. Among the pupils were two little daughters of Kehler, aged respectively 8 and 10 years. Those he shot through the body and the 11-year-old daughter of Remset was shot in the arm, receiving injuries which will not be fatal.

Genesis of a Word.

County Coroner.....GEORGE HANTHORN, Janesville

BEST MARKET IN THE WORLD.

Secretary Shaw in referring to the home market recently said:

"We produce in the United States something over $11,000,000,000 worth, this without counting the things twice understand me, I am not counting raw cotton, and then counting manufactured cotton. But I am counting raw cotton plus the value added thereto by the manufacturer. I am not counting corn and then the value of the live stock after it has consumed the corn. I have had the figures prepared in the Bureau of Statistics, as carefully as may be, eliminating duplications, and these figures show that the productive capacity of the American people is, in round numbers, $500,000,000. We consume, then, $10,500,000,000. Remember this! Our markets are worth $10,500,000,000. We import less than a billion. We keep for ourselves, then, of our own markets, $9,500,000,000. In round numbers we keep 90 per cent. of our markets and surrender 10 per cent. to the outside world.

"All the nations of the world, including the United States, export in round numbers $10,000,000,000. We export $10,400,000,000. We keep then, 90 per cent. of our markets and we get 14 per cent. of the export markets of the world.

"There are twenty-six nations, including the United States, that have a balance of trade in their favor, and in the aggregate they have a balance of trade in their favor of two billions. We had a balance of trade last year (a little less than some years) of $478,000,000. In other words, of the aggregate balance of trade in favor of the twenty-six nations that have any balance of trade at all in their favor we get 24 per cent. That is, twenty-five nations other than ours have an aggregate balance of trade in their favor of $1,545,000,000. We have a balance of trade in our favor of $478,000,000. In other words, the other twenty-five nations that have a balance of trade in their favor have altogether but 25 per cent. more than we. Twenty-two nations of the earth have a balance of trade against them of $2,000,000,000. We supply 24 per cent. of it and the other twenty-five nations supply 76 per cent. You know how these things were brought about, don't you? First it was not always after this fashion."

And yet there are thousands of people and they are not all democrats, who are clamoring for a revision of tariff and free trade. It is an old saying, and as true today as ever, that many people don't know when they are well off.

The American hen has been laying golden eggs for the nestful for the past four years, and she shows a disposition to continue for years to come. The man, or the party that goes about with an axe to kill the hen and destroy the industry, is an enemy that should be closely guarded.

THE GOVERNOR'S VISIT.

It is an honor to any city to entertain the chief executive of the commonwealth and Janesville is to be thus honored by Governor La Follette next Monday evening.

While he comes as the emissary of a political party, the fact will be recognized that he is the governor of the state, and the office entitles him to courtesy on the part of the people. As governor, he is the people's representative, occupying a position of leadership second to none in the state. A majority of the people elevated him to this high position and whatever differences of opinion may exist concerning his administration, he is still the people's governor.

So far as the republicans of Janesville are concerned, regret is expressed that the republican campaign could not have been opened by Senator Spooner, as planned, but they were not consulted as to change of programme, they recognize the governor's right to use his own judgment in the matter. Janesville is distinctively a Spooner city, and the same feeling of respect and loyalty extends throughout the county. It would be difficult to find a republican in the entire district who would consent to his retirement from the senate without vigorous protest.

The governor understands this wide spread feeling of loyalty, and he will be wise enough to recognize it. While he may hope to change the current of dissatisfaction that prevails, he would be aware of the fact that he is in a republican stronghold, where loyalty to principle has never been questioned. He will be accorded respectful hearing, by a class of people who do their own thinking.

ON THE GROUND.

Mr. B. O. Bixbee, business manager of the Scranton Tribune, was in the city yesterday. Scranton is a city of about 130,000 population, and is located in the heart of the anthracite coal fields. Mr. Bixbee says that while coal is about as scarce in Scranton as it is in Chicago, that prices have only advanced 25 cents per ton, and that the dealers keep the people supplied in half ton lots at $3.50 per ton. He says that one mine is running full blast with nonunion labor and shipping the entire output to New York city at $10 a ton. The men are fed and lodged in the mine and receive good wages.

Mr. Bixbee says that a great deal of ignorance prevails throughout the country in regard to conditions that caused the strike. He says that the Scranton mines were generally satisfied and that when a call was issued to one local union composed of 600 members, 94 responded, and the vote to strike was 54 to 40. Of the 54 who voted to go out, 47 were breaker boys, who are always ready for a strike, because it means a holiday. He claims that politics enters very largely to conditions, and but for that fact Governor Stone would have adopted stringent measures long ago.

The best friend that labor has is capital, and this fact is recognized by all thoughtful workmen. The man who arrays one against the other, whether in public or private life, is one whose services the people can well afford to dispose of. There is no room for the doctrine of class distinction in this country.

The defunct Stevens bill is so much of a hobby with the governor that he devoted much time to its defence, in his Viroqua speech. The Stevens bill is a dead issue, and the governor will fall to make friends for a primary law in discussing it.

People who live on the newly paved streets, can keep warm this winter by sitting out on their new curbing and swearing at fate.

With Wisconsin's governor and Milwaukee's mayor stumping the state the atmosphere should be full of food for thought.

The city boulevard has extended to a driveway around the city hall at a trifling expense of $600.

The library building will be an ornament to the city, and a pocketbook reminder of a luxury, once a year.

New Orleans is having a taste of the strike. There is no coal involved and but little glory.

The war in Pennsylvania is a sad comment on American intelligence.

One day nearer winter, and no coal in sight.

PRESS COMMENT

Kenosha News: It is remarkable how straight hunters can shoot when they mistake other people for game.

Marinette Eagle: The social season now opening will be largely devoted to dancing. It requires less artificial heat.

Green Bay Gazette: It has been discovered why President Roosevelt has been so unfortunate on his two last public trips. He started each time on a Friday.

Superior Telegram: The campaign in Wisconsin is now fairly on and Mr. Rose will have no cause for complaint on the ground that he has no attention.

Sheboygan Journal: "Do hogs pay?" asks a correspondent in a country paper. The Journal would say in answer: "Not if they can beg or borrow the paper from their neighbors."

Racine Journal: "Now that Chairman Bryant has picked out Senator Spooner for a winner it can be seen that his judgment coincides with the state generally."

La Crosse Republican and Leader: Coal, coal everywhere, but not a ton to burn at reasonable prices. The people of the United States propose to find a remedy for these vamped-up coal mines.

Chippewa Herald: If it becomes necessary during the approaching winter for a man to steal a hog of coal it should be remembered that the rich and poor should be punished alike.

Elkhorn Independent: Rose's "whoop-la" train is still whirling through the state, from point to point and the mayor is trying to convince the people that he would make a good governor. If in order, we would like to ask, who pays the freight?

Appleton Post: Generally speaking the idea of a permanent tariff commission is an excellent one. It would insure a consideration of the tariff subject on its merits, from a business standpoint, practically free from partisan bias and with the view of conserving only the legitimate interests of the American capital and American labor.

State Journal: Speaker Henderson has served twenty years in congress and presumably had got to that point where it seemed safe to traffic a bit on his fame and public service—a perilous frame of mind for the greatest of men to get into.

Milwaukee Wisconsin: J. Pierpont Morgan could do more for the poor generally by consulting the nine presidents to submit their case to arbitration than by bringing cargoes of coal from Wales for the poor of New York city.

Milwaukee Sentinel: The public wants to know the name of the Oshkosh girl who is said to be engaged to the heir of the Stratton millions before it will believe that the report is anything more than an Oshkosh "bluff."

Green Bay Gazette: There may be no special session of congress called this fall to settle the coal miners' strike, but the regular session this winter will have the problem to deal with and the people will expect the congressmen to face it without dodging.

Fond du Lac Reporter: Because the Milwaukee Sentinel printed the speech of Governor La Follette in small type, it is receiving the criticism of the Milwaukee Free Press. Shades of shades, but the republican editors of the state are a hard lot to please.

Eau Claire Leader: The rejection of the advice tendered by President Roosevelt to both mine owners and mine owners is to be regretted, for the submission of a free people to the executive authority of government is more of a compliance with laws which they themselves have enacted.

Madison Journal: The Sun Prairie Countryman is sorry that Dr. Lewis of that village was not chosen as candidate for the assembly. The doctor is a blameless citizen and a good republican. He ran against the sensitive feelings of the party on the subject of Spooner. Dr. Lewis is a good Spooner man but not all his friends were.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The Wisconsin congressmen, in session at Milwaukee, Saturday afternoon, sent President Roosevelt greetings and told him they were in accord with his policy to settle the coal strike. In the event a special session of congress is called, the president will know where to find the Badger state representatives.

Portage Register: Several state papers are still arguing upon the question of whether there is a duty on anthracite coal or not. Settle the question by asking the collector at the port of New York, who has passed a quantity of foreign anthracite through his office. If he collected duty on it then there is a duty on coal. If not, there isn't.

Fond du Lac Reporter: The girls of St. Paul who are employed as clerks have formed a union, and one of the by-laws says that none of them will keep company, or allow the attentions of a young man who does not belong to a trade union. The boys have taken the cue, and a large number of new members are being initiated into the mysteries of the order at every meeting. The matrimonial crop in St. Paul will probably be increased.

LARGE FUNERAL FOR M. J. DAWSON

ELOQUENT TRIBUTE IS PAID HIS MEMORY

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS ATTEND

Solemn High Mass Celebrated at St. Patrick's Church—Burial at Mount Olivet.

One of the largest funerals ever held in the city honored the memory of the late Michael Dawson, this morning. Services were held at St. Patrick's church at 9:30 o'clock and the sacred edifice was filled with sorrowing friends, who had known and esteemed the deceased man during his life. There was also a wealth of beautiful flowers.

Solemn high mass was celebrated by Rev. Dean E. M. McGinnity, celebrant, assisted by Rev. James Harlan, of Edgerton, deacon, Rev. J. J. Collins, of North Fond du Lac, sub-deacon, and Rev. James McGinnity, master of ceremonies.

At the close of the impressive service the remains were taken to Mt. Olivet cemetery for interment, there being over one hundred carriages in the procession, which took over half an hour in passing a given point. Nearly one hundred members of the Catholic Knights of Wisconsin Branch No. 60, attended the services as an organization and marched as an escort for the funeral car which bore the remains of their departed brother to their last resting place.

The honorary pall bearers were chosen from the Catholic Knights and were James Dee, Patrick Kavanagh, Charles Viney, James Walsh, Michael Furey and Dennis Morrissey.

The active pall bearers were Dennis Hayes, Michael Hayes, John W. Hogan, George Charlton, Patrick Ryan and John Dooley.

BAKERY CONTRACT LET

Blair & Sommers Will Build Benson
& Lane's New Building

At three o'clock this afternoon the contract was signed giving the work on the bakery building for Benson & Lane to Blair & Sommers. Last evening in the office of the Eureka bakery, the bids were opened for the building, which is to be erected on the corner of Wall and High streets, and as it was found that the above named firm offered to do the work at the lowest figure the contract was awarded them. The papers of agreement were signed this afternoon.

Ready in February
According to the terms of the contract the building must be completed ready for occupancy on Feb. 1, and the work will be begun next Monday morning. Billings & Frederickson will do the mason work.

The bids, which were as follows, were all made by Janesville concerns:

David Stewart, $9,750; J. P. Wright, $9,650; J. G. Wray, $8,777; John Cullen, $8,590; John Peter, $8,272; Ed. Dohahoe, $8,149; Blair & Sommers, $7,650.

JOE CANTILLION IS A MANAGER

Old Time Janesville Mutual Player to Manage Milwaukee Association Team.

Joe Cantillion, who for the last year was an umpire in the National League, and twenty-five years ago was a member of the Janesville Mutuals, has been chosen as manager of the Milwaukee American Association League team for the coming season.

Mr. Cantillion is well known in Janesville and is a brother of W. D. Cantillion of the Northwestern road. He rose rapidly in the baseball world from the position of umpire in the old western league, up through the American to the National and now is manager of the Milwaukee team.

Well Remembered
Mr. Cantillion is remembered here as one of the star players of the old Mutuals on the initial bag. His promotion to the position of a manager is pleasing to his friends here.

Glass Blowers Coming
Conover & Smith's glass blowers, who will open a week's engagement on next Monday night at 62 W. Milwaukee street, come highly recommended, and this highly educational exhibit should be seen by both old and young. Glass working in all its various forms is displayed by this company. Five first-class artists are constantly at work making beautiful ornaments out of ordinary glass. The admission is 10 cents and every visitor receives a present.

Sheboygan Telegram: The president's Cincinnati speech is being of course, severely criticised by free trade orators, but then the president has never exhibited a great regard for the wishes or opinions of democrats and free traders.

Tremendous Power of Explosive.
France has secured the patent rights of a new nitroglycerin powder which it is contended will send a rifle bullet seven and one-half miles and increase the artillery range eighteen miles.

Effect of Fire on Diamonds.
None can tell where the diamond goes to in combustion. Burn it, and it leaves no ash; the flame is exterior, like that of a cork, and when it has blazed itself out there remains not even so much as would dust the antennae of a butterfly.

Leafless Trees.
There are forests of leafless trees in some parts of Australia. They respire, go to sleep, through a little stem, apparently answering the purpose of a leaf. The trees are known as "the leafless acacia."

BELOIT HORSES DESERTED HERE

LIVERYMEN COME TO JANESVILLE TO RECOVER PROPERTY.

WERE LEFT AT LOCAL STABLE

Horses Had Been Put in to Be Cared For, and Were Not Reclaimed.

One day last week representatives of three Beloit livery stables came to this city, and drove back to the Line
City a double seated rig and a team of horses and three single buggies, which had been deserted at a local livery stable by parties who said that they came from Beloit.

Stabled Here
The horses had been put in to be stabled for "a couple of hours," and the persons driving them were not seen again. The local liverymen recognized the deserted property as belonging in Beloit and telephoned to the owners to come up and take it home.

No explanation is advanced by the liverymen as to the motive of the persons who left the horses here, or do they know who the persons are.
The rigs had been ordered from different Beloit stables at different times and so far as can be judged from the description of the parties given, by different persons.

NEW MONKEY FACTS

EXPERT GARNER REAPPEARS FROM JUNGLE WITH FULL NOTEBOOK.

Having Spent Two Years More in Africa Observing Simians He is Sure They Have a Language—Obey Leaders Too.

Professor R. L. Garner, who made a sensation several years ago by asserting that monkeys had a language which he could understand, is again attracting the attention of scientists.

Professor Garner has just returned from his second trip to Africa and is now in London, where his wonderful acquaintance with the habits of our so-called progenitors seems to bear out his claim that monkeys have a language capable of conveying ideas.

According to Professor Garner, the head of a flock of monkeys controls the clan. He can indicate them by name and send them by sound of his voice to perform certain tasks indicated by the command given.

R. L. Garner, it will be remembered by most folks, went to Africa in the late nineties to prove a theory that he entertained.

Mr. Garner is a Boston man. He claimed that the simians had an understandable language. He went to Africa and for several years lived in an iron cage in the jungles, where he was enabled to study the animal life of the tropical forests.

In 1900 he disappeared again, and after an absence of two years is again in civilization. He has been living in a jungle in the French Congo some twenty miles from the coast, and the result of his recent investigations are even more interesting than were his experiences on his first visit to the land of the monkey.

Mr. Garner says that monkeys usually travel in bands of fifty or sixty. His study of their habits has convinced him that they follow a leader, apparently selected by the company.

This leader is in supreme command and issues orders for each and every occasion.

For instance, in time of trouble Mr. Garner asserts that the chief monkey

HELPLESS.

The man trussed up so that he can neither move hand nor foot is in his helplessness a fair type of many a man affected by rheumatism. Often the disease only partially disables, and with crutch and cane the sufferer hobbles painfully about.

Rheumatism can be cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This great blood purifying medicine eliminates the poisons which cause the disease. It increases the activity of the blood-making glands, and so increases the purity and abundance of the blood supply, thus giving vigor and vitality to all organs of the body which depend for their health on plenty of pure blood. It builds up the body with firm flesh instead of flabby fat. The "Discovery" contains neither alcohol nor narcotics.

"I had been troubled with rheumatism for twelve years, so bad at times I could not leave my bed," writes Mr. R. J. McKnight, of Cades, Williamsburg Co., S. C. "I was badly crippled. Tried many doctors, and two of them gave me up to die. None of them did me much good. The pains in my back, hips and legs and at times in my head, would nearly kill me. My appetite was very bad. Everybody who saw me said I must die. I took five bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and four vials of the 'Pain-Expeller' and today my health is good after suffering twelve years with rheumatism."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets assist the action of the "Discovery."
